Trip Overview

Kalinchowk, located at an altitude of 3,842 meters in the Dolakha district, is renowned for the Kalinchowk Bhagwati Temple, which is a significant pilgrimage site for Hindus. The region offers spectacular views of the Himalayas, including peaks such as Gaurishankar and Langtang.

Kuri Village serves as the base camp for the hike or cable car ride to Kalinchowk Bhagwati Temple. For those who prefer not to hike, the cable car ride from Kuri Village to the temple provides a quick and scenic ascent. The trail is adorned with rhododendron forests and offers frequent views of the mountains, especially beautiful in the spring and autumn seasons?.

Besides the Kalinchowk Bhagwati Temple, the area includes other cultural sites such as the Dolakha Bhimsen Temple. During the winter months (January and February), Kalinchowk becomes a snowy wonderland, attracting visitors who enjoy playing in the snow and winter photography??.

Kalinchowk is relatively close to Kathmandu, making it an ideal short trip for those looking to escape the city for a couple of days without extensive travel??.
