Trip Overview

The iconic Everest Base Camp trek promises a legendary adventure through the heart of the Himalayas. Starting from Kathmandu, Nepal's bustling capital, your journey commences with a scenic flight to Lukla. From there, immerse yourself in the vibrant culture of the Khumbu region as you trek through picturesque Sherpa villages, lush forests, and thrilling suspension bridges.

Ascending through rugged terrain, you'll encounter Namche Bazaar, the bustling hub of the Everest region, and Tengboche Monastery, offering serene views of Everest. Continuing higher, the landscapes transform into a breathtaking alpine wilderness, with towering peaks framing your path.

At last, you'll arrive at Everest Base Camp, surrounded by the surreal expanse of rock and ice beneath the world's highest peak. Witnessing the grandeur of the Himalayas, you'll feel humbled by nature's scale.

The adventure extends with a hike to Kala Patthar, offering the ultimate vista of Everest at sunrise. As you descend, memories of camaraderie and the raw beauty of the Himalayas will accompany you, inspiring future journeys and embracing the spirit of Everest.

Guidelines/Information

Accommodation

Accommodations in the Himalayas are mostly teahouses/guesthouses/lodges in the Everest Region. In the city, the hotel is the accommodation. Generally, the teahouses are simple with basic facilities but comfortable to stay in. For the use of Wi-Fi, charging electronic devices, hot water buckets, laundry, and boiled water, trekkers must pay an additional charge.

Meals

In the city, only breakfast is provided. During the entire trek in the Everest region, a full 3-course meal (breakfast, lunch, and dinner) is provided from the teahouses. The meals are basic but organic and healthy suitable for the health of the trekkers. The prime dish is Nepali Dal-Bhat served with vegetable curry and pickles. Besides Dal-Bhat, noodles, soups, Sherpa stew, hot drinks, roti, and fresh curries are served. There is no variety of meals at the teahouses but one can enjoy the continental dishes at Namche at your personal expense.

Drinking water

Drinking water keeps the body hydrated which is essential during the trek. In the Himalayas, water is pure and fresh. One can directly drink water from the natural stream from the Himalayas or one can fill up the boiled water at the teahouses paying an additional charge. However, water-purifying solution kits are essential. Remember to carry a water bottle to minimize the use of plastic bottles.

Communication

The internet connectivity is stable and easily accessible in the lower regions of Everest. The mobile network is also stable in the lower region. But, in the higher regions both mobile network and internet connectivity is unstable, and sometimes no connection at all. One can also purchase a local Sim to use the phone and mobile data internet in the lower regions.

Required Permits

Khumbu permit costs: NPR 2000 (Foreigners), NPR 1000 (SAARC)
SNP permit costs: NPR 3000 (Foreigners), NPR 1500 (SAARC)

Travel Insurance

Everest Base Camp Trek

Travel Insurance is required while trekking in Nepal. Travel Insurance makes your journey stress-free. It acts as a safety tool that prevents unforeseen and unwanted events during the travel journey. One must get travel insurance from a trusted insurance company. It must cover all emergencies, flight cancelations, loss/theft of luggage, altitude over 3000m, evacuations, and medical difficulties.

Safety and our guides

The client's safety is our topmost priority. So, when it comes to safety one can 100% trust us. Our guides are certified and have years of experience in this field. They are aware of the technical difficulties, altitude sickness, and health of the trekkers in the Himalayas. Thus, they are fully prepared and always carry necessary medical kits, safety tools, and are experts in safety performances. From the beginning to the end of the trek, the client's safety is taken into consideration and kept as a high priority. Therefore, all the program itineraries are carefully planned and scheduled with proper acclimatization and rest days to prevent altitude sickness and adapt to the higher altitude. We are available 24/7 at your service. Hence, feel free to ask queries and share your thoughts.

Best time for Everest Region Trek

All seasons have their beauty. But, when it comes to trekking in the Everest region, Spring and Autumn seasons are termed best. These two seasons are the best time to explore as the weather is clear, the days are bright, and trekking trails are easy to walk. Spring and Autumn season is followed by the Summer season to trek in the Everest region. Winter and Rainy seasons are riskier due to muddy, slippery, and snowy trails. The weather is also uncertain and the chances of the temperature fluctuating are high making it cold for the trekkers. It is advisable to properly plan before trekking in the rainy and winter seasons in the Everest region.

Everest Region Trek Difficulty

Everest Region's Trek is moderately difficult to extremely challenging depending on the trek duration, elevation, and trail structure. The trek trails include several steep ascends, and descends, rugged trails, and high elevations. The trek difficulty is the part of the trekking journey which is inevitable. But, to lessen the difficulty during the trek, trekkers must be physically and mentally fit before the start of the trek. The trekking experience at the high altitude is a plus point for the trekkers. Trekkers can take part in physical training, exercises, short day hikes, cardiovascular exercises, and healthy diets. Take essential health tests and keep yourself motivated before the trekking journey. Here in Nepal, our assistance is always there throughout the trekking journey.

Altitude Sickness and Acclimatization

Altitude sickness is common at an altitude above 3000m. Here in Nepal, during trekking, altitude sickness chances are high. The high elevation, the weather, and the temperature play a key role. Thus, to prevent altitude sickness, acclimatization is quintessential. Thus, the
